Domain Title: CONNECTING TO P-12 SCHOOLS AND TO COMMUNITY COLLEGES

Study Group Members: Cyrus Ramezani (chair), Bing Anderson, John Dobson, Steve Slezak, Sharon Reese (staff), Tyler Mah (student), Ryan Curtis (student).

Meeting: 12 February 2007, 1:00 – 2:30 pm.

I. Proposition: Encourage outreach by current CSU (Cal Poly) students and faculty to their respective P-12 (with emphasis on High School Students) and Community College.

Action: Follow the Armed Forces example of visiting high schools and community colleges to inform, educate faculty, students, and staff at P-12 (with emphasis on High School Students) and Community Colleges and to recruit students to CSU.

Ideas: Make sure that this is not a one way relationship. Bring P-12 and Community College students to CSU campuses so that they can observe first hand “one day in the life of CSU student”.

II. Proposition: Developing a program where CSU students can serve as tutors/mentors to P-12 (with emphasis on High School Students) and Community College students.

Action: Create a program similar to the “Big Brother/Sister Program” many communities have created to encourage mentoring of youth by their peers.

Ideas: Again, make sure that this is a two way relationship between CSU students and the students, faculty, and staff at P-12 and Community Colleges.
