Cal Poly in SHANGHAI, CHINA  SUMMER 2012

Study in one of the most vibrant and cosmopolitan cities of China … practice Mandarin while sipping tea in a beautiful garden … discover Shanghai’s history as a small, sleepy fishing village that transformed itself into a city that rivals London, Paris, and New York … Visit the Great Wall, the Forbidden City, and other cultural gems…learn to negotiate or study international marketing in a multi-cultural classroom setting spanning languages, philosophies and interests…take photographs that will inspire life-long memories while developing friendships with other international students.

The USAC – Shanghai summer program is a wonderful blend of business, politics and language with classes taught by Chinese and US professors. Classes are held at the Yanchang Campus of Shanghai University. Shanghai University, a world renown academic institution, was founded in 1922 and is located 20 minutes outside of downtown Shanghai. SU attracts over 2,000 students from 80 countries in addition to its 26,000 undergraduates.

COST: $3980 (includes tuition and housing!).
Airfare and personal expenses are not included in this price.

Courses offered:
- Business Negotiations … taught by Cal Poly Professor Barry Floyd (You may request to have the class count toward your IB requirement by submitting a course substitution request through the advising center and having it approved before taking the course … I can facilitate this, see me for more details.)
- Chinese at all language levels
- The China Phenomenon: Society, Politics and Business
- Government and Politics in China
- International Marketing
- Internship opportunities!!!

KEY DATES
Classes: June 25 to August 3
Application due: May 1, 2012

CONTACT
Professor Barry Floyd
Office: 3-338
bfloyd@calpoly.edu
805.756.6551

INFORMATION SESSIONS
7pm to 8pm Wednesday, March 7
TENAYA HALL
BACK STUDY LOUNGE
11am to noon Thursday March 8
OCOB BLDG 3 -Room 200

Application and additional information
http://usac.unr.edu