Full-Time Lecturer Position Announcement

Information Systems

The Management Area of the Orfalea College of Business at Cal Poly seeks applicants for a full-time lecturer position for one academic year beginning September 2013 and ending June 2014 in the primary area of Information Systems (IS). Interest and ability to teach undergraduate level classes in computer programming (Java, C# and/or C++) and introduction to MIS (using Access, Excel and web development tools for business applications) is required.

The successful candidate must have completed at least a master’s degree in Business with an emphasis in Information Systems or in a related field such as Computer Science or Information Science from an AACSB or equivalent accredited institution. Applicants are expected to demonstrate exemplary teaching as well as currency in their professional field. To complete an application, please visit http://www.calpolyjobs.org, and apply to requisition #102914. Attachments should include a cover letter, current vita, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Transcripts of highest degree will be required of all finalists. The position will remain open until filled.

Cal Poly is an Equal Employment Opportunity employer and the Orfalea College of Business is strongly committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The University actively encourages applications from all qualified individuals.