

CAREER COACHING PROGRAM

The Orfalea College of Business Career Coaching Program aims to provide career-related support to Orfalea students who are interested in developing skills to launch career exploration and enhance career-readiness.

Through a student-alumni mentoring partnership, Orfalea students are able to foster connections with industries of interest, strengthen career-readiness skills, and build professional strategies in order to become competitive candidates for in-demand internship and job opportunities in specific fields of interest.

Alumni Career Coaches:

Ranging from Business Administration, Economics, and Industrial Technology alumni, Orfalea's Career Coaches possess a passion and care for giving back to the Orfalea College of Business. Career Coaches utilize this opportunity to contribute to the lives of current students by helping them engage in professional experiences, determine their career goals, and assist them in beginning to chart their trajectory to career success.

Mentors currently serve in a variety of positions across diverse and widespread business sectors, including companies such as Oracle, Apple, Armanino, PwC, Cisco Systems, Adobe, MindBody, Texas Instruments, Glassdoor, and Deloitte.

We have two types of Career Coaches in this program: Executive Partner (10+ years of experience) and Young Alumni (1-10 years experience). Students can select the type of career coach they prefer, based on their own interests and goals within the program.

Commitment:

- Six-month commitment (October – March)
- Complete a minimum of one session per month with each mentee
- Mentoring sessions range from 30 minutes to 1 hour, and can be held via phone, Skype/Facetime/Zoom, or in person. If meeting remotely, we highly encourage video conferencing to build your relationship.
